In addition to the facilities afforded by the College for a thorough course of instruction in the theory and practice of Dentistry, the celebrated hospitals and clinics of the city constantly enable the student to witness various important surgical operations which are highly interesting and instructive. The medical and surgical clinics of the Blockley Hospital, in particular, one of the largest eleemosynary establishments in the world, are open to Medical and Dental students, free of charge. The staff of this institution is composed of some of the most eminent physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia. COURSE OF LECTURES. CHEMISTRY AND METALLURGY. The course of instruction from this chair will commence with the consideration of the imponderable substances. The laws that govern the imponderable bodies will next claim attention, with some notice of symbols or chemical notations. Individual elements, and the compounds resulting from their combinations, will then be considered. Organic chemistry will receive its full share of attention. The course will be illustrated by diagrams and such experiments as can be performed before the class. DENTAL PHYSIOLOGY AND OPERATIVE DENTISTRY. The lectures in this department will embrace the Physiological Anatomy of the teeth, general and microscopical, in addition to a minute and careful description of the various operations performed by...
