Allen & Unwin/Viva Books, 2007. Softcover. Book Condition: New. First edition. Learning does not stop when you leave school or tertiary studies but continues throughout life. The workplace is now seen as an important learning environment, and businesses and government units are encouraged to become 'learning organizations'. This is all very well in theory, but how does learning actually occur in the workplace? Drawing on research of a wide variety of workplaces in different countries, Stephen Billett analyses the strengths and limitations of 'on-the-job' learning. He outlines what knowledge individuals need and how they can best acquire this knowledge in workplace settings.
